

I do believe it's coming don't dread its approach the only preference I might have is that I hope to see it could start with an invasion or maybe it'll come from fire the bomb's so boring
I wanna see some blood

There'll be people in the streets I mean the ones that live in houses I wanna see 'em screaming "Holy mother sweet jesus" I may seem a bit morbid but you totally can't deny 'cause when it hits I'll be laughing and you will start to... cry

Young, and old, and middle aged domesticated creatures as well there are other ways to look at this than a state of living hell as your friends, relatives, and acquaintances perish in catastrophe just think of it as the best movie you'll ever hope to see

It's got action, violence rape is there too starvation- whole nations and it's all for me and you it's got everything you wanted this admission is free there's only one catch-- it's compulsory