

During the Sun's reign
I'm walking there again.
This Dream sinks in being.
Square was the beginning...
October's cold embrace
Became hot in Your face.
And while I am sleeping,
These pictures make me weeping...

The thrill of first kiss,
Entire taste of bliss...
Just standing hand-in-hand
We looked so innocent.
The blooming of Your voice
Was trembling all my poise...
But soon thoughts sank in redness,
This slumber turned to madness.

And now my life is just a dream!
My life, It's just a dream!
My life, It's just a dream!
It's just unrealized dream!

The light wind in Your hair
Blows off all that I cared...
Even now Your breath
Is dancing at arm's length.
So close, but too far
I feel Your fair star...
In abyss my mind's falling,
And heat is now growing...

Without You my life
Became existence's strive...
Blessed by the Autumn's rain
This sense's just grain of pain,
In my own sand glass.
Present turns to the Past...
Nightmare now is REAL...
If only You could feel...

And now my life is just a dream!
My life It's just a dream!
My life It's just a dream!
It's just unrealized dream!
My life is just a dream!
My life It's just a dream!
My life It's just a dream!
It's just unrealized dream!!!
