

Do You Know How It Feels (To Be Lonesome)

Flying Burrito Brothers

Do you know how it feels to be loneso
When there's just no one left who really cares
Did you ever try to smile at some people
And all they ever seem to do is stare

And you remember how it feels to be cold again
When the happiness of love has gone away
And you never want to go out on the street again
And you only seem to live from day to day

Do you know how it feels to be lonesome
Did you ever try to smile at some people
And all they ever seem to do is stare
And all they ever seem to do is stare
