Break-In

And he's happy because she's got skin And she's happy just to let him in When he asks will you let me in? And from a place where they share skin, They say come inside and he's happy because she's got skin And it's sweet when she let's him in, No sin but there's a time when the skin wears thin And she's working on another skin deep inside deep inside breakin And he wonders will my money, will it cover for me Can i stay outside and let it cover for me? She can't get outside, she can't get outside She's the covering
