

The Telephone Always Rings

Fun Boy Three

It must be wonderful to live like you do
To have respect from everyone that you know
To have surprises waiting outside your door
When you come home to answer your telephone

He, who love this, he like mess
The is spread on the door
And he who call this, he got dropped
Invitations on a floor
Sitting down and switching on
The wooden box, the door is locked
Switching off the world outside
The party's over more than night

It must be wonderful to live like you do
To have respect from everyone that you know
To have surprises waiting outside your door
When you come home to answer your telephone

The telephone starts to ring ring ring
The piece, bells start to chime
The liquid drop
It's out of tune, the time it drop

It must be wonderful to live like you do
To have respect from everyone that you know
To have surprises waiting outside your door
When you come home to answer your telephone

It must be wonderful to live like you do
To have respect from everyone that you know
To have surprises waiting outside your door
When you come home to answer your telephone

Lying down and soaking in
Walk by, the door is locked
Switching off the world outside
The party's over more than night

It must be wonderful to live like you do
To have respect from everyone that you know
To have surprises waiting outside your door
When you come home to answer your telephone

It must be wonderful to live like you do
To have respect from everyone that you know
To have surprises waiting outside your door
When you come home to answer your telephone

It must be wonderful to live like you do
To have respect from everyone that you know
To have surprises waiting outside your door...