Inch Of Dust

Future Islands

A part of me you have A part of me you hold Apart from me you stand And there's parts that you had stole

Littering in the cupboards Like some pieces of the puzzle A nest just like a mother The dampness of your sweater

It's never put together As I watched you from the window Behind the curtains you turned Slowly as a teather Wrap around you tightly This love is built in metal Fall around in shadows

It's never put together It's never put together Behind the curtains you turned Fall slowly as a feather

The part of you I have The part of you I hide The parts of you I hold The parts you left behind

Call me I'll be there always

And call me I'll be there always

And call me I'll be there always

Call me I'll be there always

Call me I'll be there always

Part of me you have A part of me you hold Apart from me you stand And there's parts that you had stole

The part of you I have The part of you I hide The parts of you I stole The parts you left behind
