The Loosing Of The Shadow

Gatsby's American Dream

How could you understand? The way I feel about god... How could you understand? Anything, about me at all... I am the wind, singing a sad song I am a volcano, and i'll hurt you all My pride, ripped a hole in the world that set loose... A shadow! How could you understand? The way I feel about god How could you understand? Anything, about me at all I am the wind, singing a sad song I am a volcano, and i'll hurt you all Billows and billows Watch the smoke rise I sail, to jaws of the dragon A beast before me A shadow, behind me and the only certainty They'll hurt you all
