

If Only You'd Love Me Again

George Jones

I kicked down the door in the middle of the night
And tear you right out of his bed
I'd do anything that I have to do
If only you'd love me again.

I'd ask him to meet me in the street at high noon
And I'd meet him to die in the sand
I'd chose to kill, I'd rob and steal
If only you'd love me again.

I'd never swallow another drop from the bottle
I'd pour it all down the drain
I'd be the man that I should have been
If only you'd love me again.

In my shining armour I'd ride to your rescue
And fight till the dragon was slain
Then I'd be your hero instead of this zero
If only you'd love me again

I'd be the man that I should have been
If only you'd love me again...
