You Done Me Wrong

George Jones

Well, you tell me that you care
But now you're gone you got me cryin'
No use denyin' you done me wrong
If I could look inside your heart
Maybe I could find the reason
Why you are leavin' me all alone.

Well, you know it's not so when you say It's not well, you know you lie I didn't do one wrong thing to you Won't you tell me baby why You went and left me here so lonely I miss only, for I love you.

Did I ever make you sad so you'd be mad And love to hurt me And desert me for so long Well, you're telling everyone what you done You think it's funny Well, listen honey, you done me wrong.

Well you know it's not so when you say It's not well you know you lie I didn't do one wrong thing to you Won't you tell me baby why You went and left me here so lonely I miss only, for I love you.

Well you know it's not so when you say It's not well you know you lie I didn't do one wrong thing to you Won't you tell me baby why You went and left me here so lonely I miss only, for I love you.
