Mouth of Kala

There's a river of time Let us worship this god of destruction On nothing we can rely All is gone, belong to the past You should learn by the time Everything changing over and over We're all falling so fast Keep on burning

Overwhelming power Keep on burning, change

The old me didn't survive Inexorable transfiguration There is something at war This red tainted flash on the wall I'm nowhere to be found Nothing matters, truth out of sight In the air I dissolve I'm fading away

Overwhelming power Keep on burning, change Gojira
