

After The Party

Good Old War

How long, how long
Can you keep it going
You have to know this is wrong
Can't help but cry
Are you coming home?
Or staying up, staying out
Waiting for the sun to come

Got me thinking that it's all just a part of your plan
Got me thinking that you're hiding something

You only wear those heels when I'm not around
Taking a break from your lonely life
After the party
I'm here and you're not home
You're staying up, staying out
Waiting for the sun to come

Got me thinking that it's all just a part of your plan

Oh, after the party
Don't go hiding from me
Oh, after the party
I feel like a dead man walking

No one likes the rain
When it rains all the time
We only like the rain
When the flowers are dying

Got me thinking that it's all just a part of your plan

Oh, after the party
Don't go hiding from me
Oh, after the party
I feel like a dead man walking
