Tonight
Where do we go from here?
The road to Ruby Falls has reached the end
And now we're digging in the sand
They're promising that help is on the way

Love, confession number one Impossible and sorry And judge, can you look the other way? Some things are best unsaid

And now where can we go from here When all the morning birds have gone away Two wrongs won't navigate tonight The afterlife is all in the end The afterlife is ours in the end

Love, don't look me in the eye
Just wash it all down
And judge, can you let me know the way
We're outta here, straight outta here

Somewhere down buried in the sand Two birds give out a song And all of Ruby Falls is singing along

Sing along...

(...gone and turned away (?))
(...gonna make you pay (?))
