

Sleeping Thoughts Wake

Haken

Shades of grey shape the room in which she lies
Raindrops on the windowpane keep her awake

Shades of her mind shape the world she sees
Lost in fading daylight
She entered her dreams

Tears of fire cascade from the sea
The sound falling through the earth
Pulls me to its core

Free me from this black hole
Help me regain control of my reality
Sleeping thoughts wake
My visions oppressing me

Trapped inside this raging mind
Drawn between opposing worlds
She abhorred her lost soul

Tears of earth cascade from the sea
The sound falling through the fire
Pulls me to its core

Splintered
Fragmented heart
Spirits are torn apart
She lost her reality
Sleeping thoughts wake
And entered her fantasy

Where am i?
What is this feeling?
My sleeping thoughts awakening
When will my conscious thoughts sleep?

I'm alive in my dreams
In my dreams i am free

Wonders i have never heard
I see a magical world below

Let your senses become one

For the first time i am now awake

I don't want to go
This is not the end
When can i return?
Will i see you again?

Drawn back to this wretched world
She abhorred her lost soul

Tears of sea cascade from the earth and fire
Falling through the sound
Pulls me to its core

This is not the end..