...Like Starlight Into Day

Hammock

You say your time is over You seek but never find And the cold wind on your shoulder A storm inside your mind

You say you're tired of waiting You're weak and so ashamed And your faith is finally fading Like starlight into day... So you throw yourself away

No more time for waiting So you throw yourself away You threw yourself away You threw yourself away