

Raising Your Voice... Trying To Stop An Echo

Hammock

You swore you'd never be them
You're just like them
You're just like them now

All the times you said you hate them
Just to hurt them
You're just like them now

And you swore you'd never be them
You're just like them
You're just like them now

All the times you said you hate them
Just to hurt them
You're just like them now

Such a cold place that you live in
When you blame them
You're just like them

Still the stars shine down on your skin
Do you see them?
You're just like them now