Yellow Roses

Hank Snow

I just received, sweetheart, your yellow roses You tell me, dear, they mean that we're all through You tell me that, tonight your heart is broken But you should know, I was never untrue

I'll place them near your photograph And as the petals fall They'll hide from you my lonely tears That shouldn't fall at all

Then they will slowly fade away and die
But I'll still love you, though yellow roses say goodbye