

I Can Climb Mountains

Hell Is For Heroes

Give me some kind of hope
Give me one honest lie to promote
And try to think better days when you choke
When blood for profit gain wins your vote

And you can fake smiles to make you feel
When its time to break the deal
Cos it's easy now, i'm easy now
And buy a new disease
When it pays to sell the cure
It's easy now, im easy now

Cos i can climb mountains
I can spit further than you can hurl
And i can swallow failure just to learn
And i can build bridges from, what you burn
And you can fake smiles to make you feel
When its time to close the deal
And it's easy now, i'm easy now
And buy a new disease
When it pays to sell the cure
It's easy now, i'm easy now

Cos i can run, i can hide
I can take a world of pain in a stride
And i don't need fairy tales to pretend
And i don't need heroes to depend on
I can heal, i can regenerate
I can give birth and i can meditate
And i can hate, i can love, i can fuck
I can see the view below from the top

With arms around it
I'll take the summit
With arms around it
I'm home
