

The Fall

Imagine Dragons

Maybe I'm broken
Maybe I'm wrong
I could've spoken sooner than I should have
Only the good die old
That's what they told me
But I don't know

Maybe I'm breaking up with myself
Maybe I'm thinking I should just keep to the things that I've been told
Wait for the colors to turn to gold

Do you know?
Do you know?
You're all I know
You're all I know
When everything
Comes crashing down
You're all I know
You're all I know

I'm ready for the fall
I'm ready for everything that I believed in to drift away
Ready for the leaves
Ready for the colors to burn to gold and crumble away

Maybe I'm destined to be distraught
Always a reason
Breaking me down to my knees in the dead of night
I keep on praying to see the light
Maybe I'm breaking up with myself
Maybe I'm thinking I should just keep to the things that I've been told
Wait for the colors to turn to gold

You were the one Who helped me see

You were the one Oh you gave it all to me

I'm ready for the fall
Ready for the leaves

Ready for the colors to burn to gold and crumble away
