

Missing It All

Imperia

I have been waiting in the distance
Maybe the right one had been knocking at my door
In the meantime I've been missing it all
Passion, caress and love

I fly like the butterfly I am
To find my place where I will survive

Need someone to lift me
To say everything is gonna be alright
Someone stronger than myself
To guide me along the way

I fly like the butterfly I am
To find my place where I will survive

I better turn around, can't stay
Have to find back to my own way
To find the things I've been missing for so long
While you have been gone

I know it's better
If I would be one my own
Because you constantly hurt me
By your words and what you've done

I better turn around, can't stay
Have to find back to my own way
To find the things I've been missing for so long
While you have been gone
