Peace takes a taxi to the underground.

I want to love the world but I don't know how.

I'll blame it on the d.j. playing all the fast songs- ain't spi nning anything that I can sing along.

So if you know the words try to sing along. When you get the beat, grab a hammer, bang a gong. Cause you don't got to fight or make yourself belong to be a revolution.

If you wanna learn to play the "rock guitar."

Throw down your guns, you're gonna be a star.

You gotta begin with who you know you are to be a revolution.

Cause the time is right to cross that line to let love find a w ay.

If you know the words then try to sing along. When you get the beat grab a hammer, bang a gong. Cause you don't got to fight or make yourself belong to be a revolution.

It's all right, to be a revolution, it's all right yeah.

So if you know the words then try to sing along. When you get the beat, grab a hammer, bang a gong. Cause you don't got to fight or make yourself belong to be a revolution.

If you know the words then try to sing along. And when you get the beat grab a hammer, bang a gong. Cause you don't got to fight or make yourself belong to be a revolution.

If you know the words then try to sing along. And when you get the beat grab a hammer, bang a gong. Cause you don't got to fight or make yourself belong to be a revolution.
