Still In Love

I feel the same way That you did about me yesterday Promised you'd never leave me alone The castles that we made Were swept by the tide and washed away And now the sunsets have all gone

Now time is moving, faster than before And now we cant even seem to find the shore

Cause baby I know that you still love me And baby know that I love you too So tell me why cant we make it better Cause all that I know is found in you I'm missing your love, your face, All of our past, don't let it erase I know that you still feel the way I do Because I'm still in love with you

I wanted to move on But unlike you, I'm not that strong And now our day in the sun has set We walked side by side Leaving footprints in the sand now only my footsteps remain (When the tide rolls in)

If I had just one more life If I had just one more day You would be my whole world Be the only one I adore and The next time, I hold you close I won't hesitate no more Cause baby this time We're gonna fly high And I will never let you go

Cause baby I know that you still love me And baby know that I love you too So tell me why cant we make it better Cause all that I know is found in you I'm missing your love, your face, All of our past, don't let it erase I know that you still feel the way I do Because I'm still in love with you Jason Chen
