perfect body, perfect smile your touch renders me servile, i love the the way you speak to me, so sweet yet obscene the way you smell of chlorine

i'm addicted, and you'd agree i crave you endlessly i feel useful on my knees and i take comfort at your feet

in my mind you found a fortress one i'm happy to provide no need to ask, just receive believe it's yours to take what thrills you inside
