

Letter

Jaymay

By the time you read the letter
I'll be gone
Feelin' better, I'll be strong
Without you to be dependent upon

Sometimes I can't believe this is it
This is life: live, die, don't exist
And life grows from earth where I decompose

So don't start shakin' branches
Sometimes circumstances
Make romance a stone

And don't go losin' your sleep
Over what you could not keep
Hush your sighs, just shush
Your big baby blue eyes

Maybe it's way better this way
Anyway, what's the difference?
Makes no difference to me
