

Rhymes

Joan Osborne

Last night and the night before
Twenty-five robbers at my door
I got up to let 'em in
But I missed them all with a rollin' pin

And they took everything I own
Like a queen without a throne
I can't let it get me down, no
Change my smile into a frown

(I can't let it get me down,
Change my smile into a frown)
(I can't let it get me down,
Change my smile into a frown)

Just all about to send it southside
Even though I know you are tired
Now it's time for love again
Pain is found and finally went

And they took everything I own
Like a queen without a throne
I can't let it get me down
Change my smile into a frown

(I can't let it get me down
Change my smile into a frown)
(I can't let it get me down
Change my smile into a frown)

All is fair in love and war
What do you think we're here for
Time about to right just one
There's no cost and there's no fun

It'll never happen again
But it has to end
I can't let it get me down, no no
Change my smile into a frown

(I can't let it get me down
Change my smile into a frown)
(I can't let it get me down
Change my smile into a frown)
(I can't let it get me down
Change my smile into a frown)
(I can't let it get me down
Change my smile into a frown)
(I can't let it get me down
Change my smile into a frown)
(I can't let it get me down
Change my smile into a frown)
(I can't let it get me down
Change my smile into a frown)
(I can't let it get me down
Change my smile into a frown)