

Hello, Little Friend

Joe Cocker

Hello, little friend
Oh, It's good to see you back again
I'm very happy that you're bigger than me

In such important ways you overlook the hung up and thoughtless things I say

My dear funny friend
You may be the only one that's ever been Even when I use you see through me every line
You keep marking time
Just waiting for a friendly chance to shut the blind

Yeah, wait a minute
Oh, you are a friend of mine [backvocals]
... my sweet lord ...
Oh, darling, I say, you are a friend of mine

But if by some chance that might've slipped my mind
Little darling, I hope that you will set me straight
Don't hesitate to sharpen my reality
The hour's late ...

My dear little friend,
I'm sure you're the only one that's ever been
And if I fall again I hope that I'll find
You standing close by
Or just waiting for a friendly chance to right my mind
Yeah please wait a minute darling
Oh, you are a friend of mine [backvocals]

I said, wait for me
Oh, I love you
Don't you know, you are a friend of mine [backvocals]
If you let it in
I said, oh my sweet oh Lord, hey you are a friend of mine [backvocals]

I can tell it by the way
I said Hey! Yeah, yeah, yeah, oh
You are a friend of mine [backvocals]

Backvocals:
Darling, you are a friend of
Darling, you are a friend of Darling, you are a friend of mine
