Running Away into You

John Frusciante

Drive up and down thru water Live where poor Big dreams nice Sighing babys go to work

My name's rooted look
Thru the back of the room
Play him a tune down low
If the sun could melt like snow
I would run to you and flow into
A could running away into you.