

Different Seasons

Johnny Hates Jazz

There is a face deep in your mind
One that your heart won't leave behind
Memories are cold-empty of laughs
And all that remains are photographs

When she's gone there are no reasons
Nature's cruel - it's just different seasons
Going on and on

There is a voice deep in your soul
Telling your not to lose control
And day after day you hold back the tears
'cos pain is the greatest of your fears

When she's gone there are no reasons
Nature's cruel - it's just different seasons
Going on and on

When she's gone there are no reasons
Nature's cruel, oh - but it's just different seasons
Going on and on

There are no reasons
Say it's only different seasons yeah, yeah

Oh, there is a face deep in your mind
One that your heart won't leave, leave behind
Say it's only different seasons yeah, yeah

Just different seasons
There are no reasons
Going on and on
Ohhh wohhh wohhh wohhh
