

Heart Of Hearts

Johnny Hates Jazz

Why do you hide in the shadows?
Are you afraid of the sun?
You've got a lifetime before you
And many wars to be won

You've got to look to the future
And never dwell in the past
And though you'll never forget me
Some things are not meant to last

So why don't you open the door?
It's a beautiful day
Nothing will stand in your way
Just take look in your heart of hearts
It's true

For everything there's reason
Sometimes it's hard to define
But maybe you can take comfort
Knowing you're one of a kind

In the darkness
There's a light that shines on you
It's not over, I'll be waiting
In another place and time
I will still be by your side
