Lovers in New York

Johnny Mathis

Lovers in New York with such a lovely day in store We'll explore New York big and grand, hand in hand We'll begin our day smiling at April in the park Then we'll make our way round the town, up and down At five we'll linger in a small café and bless the day we've spent

The Broadway lights will lead us to a show
Then home we'll go content dear
Are there new delights hiding behind that old address
Undiscovered heights to possess
Lovers in New York say yes
Are there new delights hiding behind that old address
Undiscovered heights to possess
Lovers in new york say yes.
