

Houses

Johnossi

Back to your mind
Do you control your mind
When you worry about your health and all the things you said
Well it went to my head
Circled all around
Until it built a nest of all the things you said

But all I said was
I've been down in this street before
I've been running around trying to break in doors
Oh I never thought a fear would grow so fast and I never thought
I never thought it would last
I worry about my houses
My treasure it's my land
But life it ain't a game

So you came along we went straight into the woods
Back there your worry about your land and all the things you said
But can't you see I can tell everybody was down

We've been down on this street before
Running around trying to break in doors
Oh I never thought a fear would grow so fast and I never thought
I never thought it would last

You worry about your houses
Your treasure it's your land
But life it ain't a game and then there's all the things you said
There's all the things you said and then you worry about your land and but life it ain't a game

And then there's all the things you said
There's all the things you said and then you worry about your land and
But life it ain't a game and then there's all the things you said
