iRobot

Jon Bellion

I was a human, breathing and thinking Eating and drinking, philosophizing I was a human, before you killed me And ripped my heart out, I knew what love was

Now when they ask me, I just reply slow And sound like an iPhone I do not know love, I am a robot, ba ba ba ba bam bada ba I do not know love, I am a robot, ba ba ba ba bam bada ba I used to know love

Cause I had a fire, passion and desire Now all I require are circuits and wires Inside was an ocean of soul and emotion Then you cut me open, now all that I know is

I am a robot, thoughtless and empty Don't know who sent me, don't know who made me Electric robot, everything's gray now Numb to the pain now, I knew what love was

Now when they ask me, I just reply slow And sound like an iPhone I do not know love, I am a robot, ba ba ba ba bam bada ba I do not know love, I am a robot, ba ba ba ba bam bada ba I used to know love

Cause I had a fire, passion and desire Now all I require are circuits and wires Inside was an ocean of soul and emotion Then you cut me open, now all that I know is

I am a robot, I am a robot I used to know love

Cause I had a fire, passion and desire Now all I require are circuits and wires Inside was an ocean of soul and emotion Then you cut me open, now all that I know is

I am a robot
