Fell in sleep I had a kick-ass dream
Me, Frank Sinatra, James Dean
Sammy Davis at the bar drinking Moonshine
Nice woman, white wine, chillin' poolside
So I asked "when will it be my time?"

They said "boy don't even look at the clock. Cause you're gonna be Timeless (3x)

I'm not afraid to be a leader (gonna be)
To be remembered by the readers (gonna be)
My generation's Mona Lisa (gonna be)
Whoa-oo-whoa yeah (no, no, you're gonna be)
I'm not afraid to be a hero (gonna be)
To be known wherever we go (gonna be)
I was told I was a zero (gonna be)
But no, no, no, no, no (You know you're gonna be)
And I can't sit and wait for all my plans
God didn't make this man
To be stuck in the middle of nowhere land
So watch me, set this moment on fire (you know you're gonna be)

This that feeling that you get from all these knock outs My sister said "don't release it if you're not down" So don't worry about the records that I swap out I'm reaching for that Goosebump shit from College Dropout Never let opinions split me in two I keep smiling and do what I do How he so quiet but that dope shine through Because it's humbling when you're message is bigger than you Yah! I grew up in a internet age With 10,000 freaking records on my internet page It's kinda thought to not blend all the records I played I'm just the one that's not afraid to make sickening lane Yah! Shouts to CuDi just doing what feels right Shouts to kids who don't know what they really like Cause we're the same, we're just making music every night And we're the reason why these A&R's are getting fired
