

Dispossession

Katatonia

it is to see a traitor go free it is to feel a filter in me it is to leave the lights that I saw it is to ask: is it easy to go

in this dead hour
here with you
seconds are worthless
in this dead hour
when all is blank
minutes are worthless

how long will it take until there will be room again for hope it is so sad to see
dispossession
it has become my obsession

it is to have a knife in my back it is to say my soul got a crack