

Passing Bird

Katatonia

She's got black hair and she has got a black dress she's pretending
that her life is a mess but I cannot rest
with so many worries
I can't lie down
and say I am done

I live 'cause I need more light I hope I can change today she would never think of changing too much fucking emo, it's false (I know)

She stops me in the street and asks me to follow

I would if I could
if I wouldn't mind breaking her.
