

Daydream and Saunter

Kathryn Williams

Your shadow danced on the side of the train
All i was left with was a memory that was tamed
I know there's no more in you than you
The only thing that could keep us together now is glue
And you daydream and saunter like life was your lover
I know you'll be like that when you're older
You were eyes moving slowly
You were lips that knew their beauty
i was nothing that i really am
Trying to love this man
You daydream
I want the proof
Insulting me more than i insulted you
And you daydream and saunter like life was your lover
I know you'll be like that when you're older
