One Family

Kelly Price

Forgetting the old and starting things Brand new the past is gone and the future's Here for you this Christmas The world's a little kinder too cause everybody Observes the golden rule at Christmas Love's unconditional and we're all emotional because Our hearts have been made new. Love's unconditional and We're all emotional because or hearts have been made new Give thanks to God for where He's brought us from He's given us blessings, He's given us His son this Christmas. I want the gitfs and the finer things but I know better that love is what we need at Chirstmas Love's uncondtional and we're all emotional because Restorations come, Love's uncondtional and we're all emotional because restorations come Because the family is one We are one family through the year not just Christmas
