

Sunshine

Kenny Rogers

Sunshine, you may find my window
But you won't find me
And sunshine, I've got the friend of darkness here Tonight to hide me.

So sunshine, as far as I'm concerned I'm where I want to be
And sunshine, as far as you're concerned Don't be concerned for me.

cos she doesn't love me anymore she doesn't want me, Lord she doesn't need me anymore she grew tired of chasing rainbows but I loved her true and God you know I tried.

And I guess she was right cos I'm at the end I found the pot but there's no gold inside.

So sunshine, can't you see I'm not alone
Don't bother me
And sunshine, pick up your dawn
And move on down the street.
