

Severing Ties

Koffin Kats

I met her on a barstool
We didn't have much to say
Yet saw it in the eyes
She haunts me 'til this day

Once I fell in love and I didn't know why
I did all I could do just to sever those ties
I said "Go"
She asked "Why?"
Couldn't find an answer
Left her empty inside

I offered disappointment
She always had me back
One too times too many
I understand regret

In a vicious cycle pulling back to push away
I gave up what I wanted
In the end was her to stay
I said "No"
She said "Bye"
Now the tables turned and she's severing ties
