

Always Free

The Kooks

What is going on? I can't hear myself all this people sayin this is not an ending this is the beginning

See my babygirl laying by my side she's so wonderful, wonderful inside see my baby's eye

I'm always free to get me right away
and I'm always free right away
I'm always free to get me right away
and I'm always free right away

You can't understand, understand my soul it's the natural place I like to go no one else will know

I'm always free to get me right away
and I'm always free right away
I'm always free to get me right away
and I'm always free right away

Always free right away, always free right away
always free right away, always free right away

and I'm always free right away
I'm always free to get me right away
and I'm always free right away
