I wanna go for a ride
Until the morning comes
Show me the meaning tonight
Of what we could become
I can't go any longer
Feels like I've been underwater
You are the one and I need the rush takin' over me
I crave you more than ever

We are one like the sky is to the stars We are one take my breath and I am yours We are one as you open up my heart Running out of air

You are taking me there

There's no denying the power
'Cause something pulls us together
You are the one and I need the rush
Every part of me is free when I surrender

We are one like the sky is to the stars We are one take my breath and I am yours We are one as you open up my heart Running out of air

You are taking me there You are taking me there You are taking me there You are taking me there

You are taking me there

We are one like the sky is to the stars We are one take my breath and I am yours We are one as you open up my heart Running out of air

You are taking me there You are taking me there You are taking me there You are taking me there
