

If I Was Your Lover

Kylie Minogue

You take a piece of me every time you leave and never realize that way I feel about you my tongue gets tied and my mouth gets dry I wanna tell you but I don't know how to

But through every night I dream hope and pray and believe that someday you and I will live in ecstasy the world for you and me

One love, one life
everything would be alright if I was your lover one soul, one life'
everything would be alright if I was your lover

Another day goes by and it blows my mind if I didn't know that you were meant for me under the moonlit night when the time is right you hold me in your arms from here to infinity

But through every night I dream

[With ad lib] One love, one life
everything would be alright if I was your lover
one soul, one life'
everything would be alright if I was your lover

If I was your lover I'd hold you in my arms from dusk 'til dawn if I was your lover one night would last for eternity if we were together

But every night I dream hope and pray and believe, yeah so happy cause you're mine we'll live in ecstasy, the world for you and me

One love, one life
everything would be alright if I was your lover
one soul, one life'
everything would be alright if I was your lover

One love, one life
everything would be alright if I was your lover
one soul, one life'
everything would be alright if I was your lover
