

Apareces Tu (you Appear)

La Oreja de Van Gogh

I have promised to request pardon to me
I have confessed myself to my heart
I have fallen in love with all the love I have
I have allowed myself to close your good bye

And then suddenly you appear
While you speak to me I pretend to be asleep
I would be lying to you if I denied today
That since then I only dream with you

You only understand my silence only you
Know my secrets only you
Understand every gesture only you

The mirror has smiled at me today
I have decided to raise my voice
I have dismissed my ghosts today
And I have liked the way I am

And then all of a sudden you appear
While you speak to me I pretend to be asleep
I would be lying to you if I denied today
That since then I only dream of you

You only understand my silence only you
Know my secrets only you
Understand every gestures only you

And I only want to give myself, understand, take care of you
Give you my heart. I want you to reach
At my being, at my soul, and my intention
My life and my passion, my story of love

You understand my silence only you lift me to the sky only you
You are my soul and my inspiration.
