Lacuna Coil

Lie!

Lie!

Broken mirror
Seven years of stolen luck
I try to fix you one more time
But I must let it die
The dream that we'd survive,
Cut my throat if I tell a lie

Set it free, lost ambition
I over-thought my place in your life
Set it free, superstition
I gave up on this fairy tale lie

Blind man's wisdom
Cross my heart but it's a lie
I kept us going the last time
You used one of your nine lives
I gave up all of mine,
Cut my throat if I tell a lie

Set it free, lost ambition
I over-thought my place in your life
Set it free, superstition
I gave up on this fairy tale lie

In the world that I created I'm intoxicated
In the world that I created I'm intoxicated
In the world that I created I'm intoxicated
In the world that I created I'm intoxicated
In the world that I created I'm intoxicated
In the world that I created I'm intoxicated

Set it free, lost ambition
And now I won't look back
I've turned my back. I'm off the ground
Set it free, superstition
And now the air I breathe is poison free
I'm freedom bound

Set it free, lost ambition
I over-thought my place in your life
Set it free, superstition
I gave up on this fairy tale lie

Lie!
