

What if I had nothing left?

What if I had no one left?

Why would I:

Who would I survive?

Dead man, he leaves his home

Hopeless, he holds his goals higher, higher, low

I just wanted to see you wake up one day

With a real smile on your face

What if you felt certainty?

Granted trust when you were young

Why would you:

How would you let go?

I just wanted to see you wake up one day

With an expectation

I just wanted to see you wake up one day

With a real smile on your face