Can't you see We the people can make the choices You and I must raise our voices To build a future where we belong

Revoke oppression and right and wrong But do you vote or do you only complain Do you just carry on in vain As your economy crashes,

Your country goes to war The deficit Their answer to tax the poor But you may never know

What you refuse to learn
Do you work the system
Or do you get burned?
Do you ignore your abilities

Or your intellect? Are you obselete? An easy out, you forget it all But it's the hardest path

And you chase to follow You wouldn't speak for yourself And now you're spoken for This is something you can not ignore

It's time
For you to notice
The things that die
With no more lies

You can't deny You're always high And you still bitch Makes me sick

It makes me sick the way you always
Fuckin' bitch
I remember a time when I thought it wasn't fair
The scales of justice did impair

But with no darkness
Theere would never be light
There would never be light
Without injustice we'd never have a right
