Cotton Wool

Here's my love Step inside Let me warm you up By the fire in my heart

Step inside Close the door On the wind of fear Brewing up behind you

You could stay here Make your home here Hide away here I could wrap you up in cotton wool

Here's somewhere you could let your love run free And give your soul a resting place Finding someone is like finding yourself a home If the key fits, just open the door

Cause you're never gonna spend a lonely day here Come and watch your fear fly away And you'll never hunger for a greener side than here Gonna wrap you up in cotton wool and save you And save you

Where's your love Let me in To find the warm fire That I know is there inside you Let me in, it's cold outside And I'll grow there Find that place deep down inside you

You could hold me And protect me from all harm You could love me You could wrap me up

And I could stay there Make my home there Hide away there You could wrap me up in cotton wool (oool)