It gets loud down here. Fourteen scurrying Feet getting as far away as feet can carry.

From under the dust I hear every one of you, From under the dust I can feel it all.
I know what you're thinking.
I know what you're saying.

It was another time.
I guess you were a friend of mine.
It was another time but not much to recall.

From under the dust I hear every one of you, From under the dust I can feel it all.

I know what you're thinking.

It isn't hard to tell at all.

I know what you're saying.

Your not whispering.

From under the dust I hear every one of you, From under the dust I can feel it all.

I know what you're thinking.

It isn't hard to tell at all.

I know what you're saying.

Your not whispering.

I know what you're thinking. It isn't hard to tell at all. I know what you're saying. Your not whispering.
