

Sitting With A Stranger

Lior

Sitting with a stranger
Just about to lose my mind
When you decide
The times not right
And leave me way behind
Sitting with a warrior
Taking all the punches thrown
A shallow grave is made for you
If you're gonna take on the world on your own

If this love is our home
Then why am I always trying to break down the walls
And as long as there are places in your mind
I'm not allowed to go

I'll be sitting with a stranger
Trying to keep it together
Swimming around you
Holding my breath
Waiting for a change in the weather
Put up a fight
I can't scream into the dark
Or be sitting with a stranger
My whole life through
When I could be with you

Love
In a desert
Will always be wondering what's it's missing out on
And peace
In infested waters
Can never make itself at home
So c'mon
