

Waiting For Wednesday

Lisa Loeb

waiting for wednesday, my stomach doesn't hurt enough, pain always is the sign.
waiting for wednesday, no proof of mine exists, so I don't have to take it back.

don't want to show you good-bye.
show you good-bye.
show you good-bye.
show you good-bye.

but you're waiting for wednesday.
waiting for wednesday.
waiting for wednesday, I pray you'll put me on the spot.
I do believe you, that you'll love me that you'll leave me.

what will I do when you come near to me?
you'll put me on the spot.
you've been doing this a long, long time,
not that you're better than me,
but that you do it a lot.

Now I'm waiting for wednesday,
waiting for wednesday,
waiting for wednesday,
waiting for wednesday.

I'm gonna show you good-bye,
show you good-bye,
show you good-bye,
show you good-bye.

now I'm waiting for wednesday,
you're back from out of town,
the west is dry, your mind is clear,
and I don't want to be here,
I don't want to be here,
I don't want to be here,
to show you good-bye.

and I'm waiting for wednesday, to show you good-bye.
