

Heartless

Lisa Marie Presley

I watch you in the morning but you would never know
I watch you like a satellite though I let you go
I will be watching you, I know you're watching too
A whisper in the hallway corners of my mind
I hear you out there whispering but you can't read the signs,
I hear you whispering, I hope you're listening

I'm heartless
I'm heartless
I'm heartless again

I wish I'd been a runner so I could run from you
I made a million wishes but not one of them came true
I keep on wishing you, you keep on wishing too
I wait for resolution but it will never come
I want to wake up free of you not knowing where you've gone
But I won't let you through, why would I wait for you

I'm heartless
I'm heartless
I'm heartless again

Oh, nail it to your heartbeat, nail it to your soul
Oh, blame it on the surface, you don't need to know

I'm heartless
I'm heartless
I'm heartless again
